31. Why do you think some people choose to work from home?

If I am given an opportunity of working at home, I will not hesitate for a moment about taking it. Millions of reasons can explain my choice and I found three of them particularly appealing. First, avoiding commuting is sheer bliss to anyone who has to spend two torturing hours on subway each day. Second, when working at home, one can enjoy a quiet environment with which more work can be done. Third, a more flexible way of work can be applied when working in one's own house, which to a large extent will increase one's productivity.
